

Sultana Sessions

SEF's Seminar Series Exploring a Variety of Chesapeake Bay Topics in History, Humanities, Ecology and Current Events!

Join us every other Thursday at 7PM. Hosted by our awesome staff, featuring specials guests, and Q&A post program panel. Check out our schedule below.

Facebook account is NOT required.

Sultana
EDUCATION
FOUNDATION

www.facebook.com/SultanaEducation/live/

March 4th - Early Mapping of the Bay

WITH CHRIS CERINO

Together we will take an in-depth look at John Smith's (1612) map and set the scene for the Chesapeake before and after European colonization.

March 18th - Diversity in the Outdoors

WITH DONCELLA WILSON & CLARENCE GILMER

Doncella Wilson, social worker and Kent County native, has dedicated herself to promoting African American history and culture on the Eastern Shore. Clarence Gilmer, II describes himself as "a naturalist, survivalist, outdoor educator, philosopher, adventurer and all-around nice guy." They'll join Sultana to discuss their own experiences in the outdoors as well as what challenges and success organizations may find as they endeavor to promote diversity amongst both participants and staff in outdoor education.

April 1st - Bay Science 101

WITH JOHN MANN

Everything you wanted to know about the Bay, but were afraid to ask. John Mann presents a primer for those who want to better understand the ecological factors that combine to form our present-day Chesapeake Bay complete with a few science experiments you can replicate at home.

April 15th - Native Americans of the Chesapeake

WITH CHRIS CERINO

Chris Cerino will take viewers on a tour of the latest addition to Sultana Education Foundation's Holt Education Center, the First Contact Room. Featuring a mixture of original and reproduced artifacts, this room serves as a jumping off point for those wishing to learn more about the tribes and cultures that inhabited this area prior to Jamestown.

April 29th - Walking Tour of Historic Chestertown

WITH CHRIS CERINO

Chris Cerino travels through downtown Chestertown to highlight some of the "Colonial views" which still exist. What story do these buildings tell about the people who lived here?

May 13th - Aquaponics

WITH LAUREN CROISSANT

Join our Chesapeake Bay Corps Member as she discusses her Capstone Project, a newly installed aquaponics exhibit at the Holt Education Center. Sustainability at it finest!

May 27th - Explore the Lawrence Preserve

WITH JOHN MANN

John Mann takes viewers around the Lawrence Wetlands Preserve to highlight the property as is, as well as the plans Sultana has for the property in the near future.